

Miss Fabio

I have just read and reread your "Statement" and... what can I say in praise without offending you? In any case, since I am personally pointed out as one of "these" I very much wish that you had added that our twenty-minute discussion resulted in many hours' work to compile a bibliography and that shelf-space for a selection from that bibliography was agreed upon. That I was guilty of thick-headedness for the first five minutes I agree. That I should be given no credit for joining you in your effort seems to me hard. Do you really want the Black Students to believe that I simply refused to cooperate?
