CCA's Exhibitions program presents Alma Mater, an exhibition that showcases the work of recent alumni from across the college's four divisions: Fine Arts, Design, Architecture, and Humanities & Sciences. Focusing specifically on a selection of alumni who graduated within the last ten years and who have been active in shaping the growing presence of a robust and revitalized art scene in the Bay Area, Alma Mater highlights a diverse array of practices developed by these former students and layers the influence that CCA alumni are having on the Bay Area community into a collection of discrete but unified voices.

This exhibition is co-organized by the Exhibitions program and the Alumni Association.
