

LIBRARY

at the 21ST Century

Two Events of Art and Design

Kim Anno's Art Lab students explore an expansion of the function of the library as a site for art and design using research elements, codes, signs, and images present in the library itself. How does the pursuit of knowledge include studio practice?

Come experience
the library in new ways.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2014
7:30-9:30 P.M.

Meyer Library on CCA's Oakland campus will become a laboratory and an exhibition space for creative experiments.

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 2014
2-3 P.M.

A live staged reading of a play will be presented in the Simpson Library on the San Francisco campus. Given that this library has a design and architecture-focused culture, how does the humanity of theater address the space?
